Management’s Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor’s Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor’s judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity’s preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity’s internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.
Opinion

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of ChoiceTrade Holdings Inc. and subsidiary as of August 31, 2018 and 2017, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

1) Organization and description of business

ChoiceTrade Holdings, Inc. (the “Company”) was incorporated in the State of Delaware on May 13, 2008 and was reincorporated in and re-domiciled to Puerto Rico on January 1, 2015. The re-domicile was done as a continuity in accounting and tax terms. From the period May 13, 2008 through January 1, 2015 the Company’s main office was located in central New Jersey and thereafter, located in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

The Company owns 99.90% of LetsGoTrade, Inc. (“LGT”), which is a securities brokerage firm and is a registered broker-dealer with the Securities and Exchange Commission doing business as ChoiceTrade. It is also a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority and the Securities Investor Protection Corporation. LetsGoTrade Inc. was incorporated in the State of Delaware on March 28, 2000 and was re-domiciled to Puerto Rico on January 13, 2017. The re-domicile was done as a continuity in accounting and tax terms. From the period September 1, 2016 through January 12, 2017 LGT’s main office was located in central New Jersey and since January 13, 2017 LGT’s main office is located in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

2) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

a) Basis of consolidated financial statements

The consolidated financial statements include the financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries. All significant related party accounts and transactions between the Parent and the Subsidiary have been eliminated upon consolidation. Previous year’s numbers are regrouped wherever necessary.

b) Accounting Policies

These financial statements are prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“GAAP”); consequently, revenue is recognized when services are rendered and expenses reflected when costs are incurred.

c) Software Development Costs

Software development costs are expensed by the Company as incurred.
d) Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and use assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. These estimates are often based on judgments, probabilities and assumptions that management believes are reasonable but that are inherently uncertain and unpredictable. Consequently, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Management periodically evaluates estimates used in the preparation of the financial statements for continued reasonableness. Appropriate adjustment, if any, to the estimates used are made prospectively based on such periodic evaluations.

e) Cash and cash equivalents

The Company considers all highly-liquid investments (including money market funds) with an original maturity at acquisition of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

f) Other Receivables

Other receivables represent amounts due from exchanges and other market centers. The balance due is generally paid within 30 days.

g) Revenue Recognition

The Company’s revenue is primarily derived by its subsidiary LGT and its transactions revenues from commission related to domestic retail broker-dealers transactions in equity securities and to a lesser extent, payments from exchanges and other market centers, software and other administrative fees. Revenues from securities transactions are recognized on a settlement date basis and are executed by independent broker dealers and exchanges. Order flow revenues are accrued in the same period as the related securities transactions.

h) Credit and Business Concentration

Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to concentrations of credit risk consist principally of cash and trade receivables. The Company maintains cash balances, which may exceed federally insured limits of $250,000. Credit risks associated with trade receivables is minimal due to the monthly settlement and ongoing procedures, which monitor the credit worthiness of its customers.

i) Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost. Depreciation is provided for in amounts sufficient to relate the cost of depreciable assets to operations over their estimated useful lives by the straight-line method. Depreciation of an asset commences when the asset is put into use. The estimated useful lives of the related assets range from 5 to 7 years. The Company charges repairs and maintenance costs that do not extend the lives of the assets, to expenses as incurred.

Property and equipment consists of the following as on August 31,

Depreciation expenses during the year ended August 31, 2018 and 2017 was $Nil.

j) Brokerage Activities

All transactions for LGT’s customers are cleared through a carrying broker-dealer (the “Clearing Firm”) on a fully disclosed basis. Accordingly, open customer transactions are not reflected in the accompanying financial statements. LGT is exposed to credit losses in the event customers fail to satisfy their obligations in connection with their securities transactions.

As of August 31, 2018, and 2017, customers obligations to the Clearing Firm were collateralized by cash and securities with market value in excess of their obligations.
k) Uncertainty in Income Taxes

Generally accepted accounting principles require the Company to evaluate and disclose any uncertain tax positions that could have an effect on the financial statements. At August 31, 2018 and 2017, the Company determined that it had no tax positions that did not meet the “more likely than not” threshold of being sustained upon examination by the applicable tax authorities. The Company files tax returns in the United States and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

LGT filed tax returns in the United States Federal and New Jersey state jurisdictions for the period September 1, 2016 through January 12, 2017. For the period January 13, 2017 through August 31, 2018, the Company files tax returns in the United States and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

These returns are generally subject to examination by the tax authorities for a period of three years after filing.

l) Fair Value Measurements

Fair value measurement guidance defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value, and establishes a fair value hierarchy which prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. A fair value measurement assumes that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability occurs in the principal market for the asset or liability or, in the absence of the principal market, the most advantageous market. Valuation techniques that are consistent with the market, income or cost approach, as specified by the Financial Accounting Standards Board Accounting Standards Codification, FASB 820, are used to measure fair value.

The fair value hierarchy prioritizes the inputs to valuations used to measure fair value into three broad levels;

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities the Company has the ability to access.

- Level 2 inputs are inputs (other than quoted prices included within level 1) that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly.
Level 3 are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability and rely on management’s own assumptions about the assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability. (The unobservable inputs should be developed based on the best information available in the circumstances and may include the company’s own data).

The Company did not own any assets or owe any liabilities that were required to be defined under the approach at August 31, 2018 or August 31, 2017.

3) New Accounting Pronouncements

i) On November 17, 2016, the FASB issued ASU 2016-18, Statement of Cash Flows (Topic 230): Restricted Cash. It is intended to reduce diversity in the presentation of restricted cash and restricted cash equivalents in the statement of cash flows. The new standard requires that restricted cash and restricted cash equivalents be included as components of total cash and cash equivalents as presented on the statement of cash flows. As a result, entities will no longer present transfers between cash and cash equivalents and restricted cash and restricted cash equivalents in the statement of cash flows. ASU 2016-18 is effective for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2017 including interim periods within those fiscal years. Earlier adoption is permitted.

ii) In January 2017, the FASB issued Accounting Standards Update No. 2017-01, clarifying the Definition of a Business, which clarifies and provides a more robust framework to use in determining when a set of assets and activities is a business. The amendments in this update should be applied prospectively on or after the effective date. This update is effective for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2017, and interim periods within those periods. Early adoption is permitted for acquisition or deconsolidation transactions occurring before the issuance date or effective date and only when the transactions have not been reported in issued or made available for issuance financial statements. The Company does not expect the adoption to have any significant impact on its Financial Statements.
